THE BRINKLEY ARGUS.

WHOLE NO. 840

BRINKLEY, ARKANSAS. AUGUST 11, 1898.

SIXTEENTH YEAR, NUMBER 9.

BRINKLEY HAS

ORR'S MURDER IS AVENGED.

Over 3,000 inhabitants.

Four competing lines of railroads—more than any other city or town in Arkansas.

A large Cotton Oil mill, railroad machine shops, car works and big lumber mills.

Ice factory, two stave factories, tannery, gins, and other minor industries.

Beautiful streets lighted by Arc Electric lights.

A fine new Public school building.

More good people to the square inch than any other city of the same size on earth.

The Argus' New Quarters.

The Argus is now cosily located in the Sheephorn Type Writer a premium to the correspondent who secures the greatest number of points, between Feb. 1 and Dec. 29 '98, according to the following scale:

Now get to the manner of conducting the contest: Every communication sent in for publication will count 1 point; every new year's subscriber sent in will count 8 points; every new subscriber for six months will count 4 points, and every new subscriber for three months will count 2 points. At the end of the year the correspondent having the greatest number of points will receive the prize. The points for new subscribers is offered so that the correspondent who enters his contest late will have an opportunity to "catch up" with others.

The Argus desires a correspondent to write in Monroe and surrounding counties where we are not already represented. We furnish the paper free to those who send us their names so that the correspondent is not absolutely nothing except a little time once a week. If you are a good writer and desire to become such, let us know at once so that we can furnish you with samples and stamps.

The following rules will govern the contest:

No correspondence will be allowed unless more than one letter each week, except in cases of important happenings occurring soon after the regular letter has been sent in. Letters will be supplemented with another report and two letters will be credited.

No letter will be credited if it does not reach us in time for publication the week it is written, unless we have evidence to show that it was delayed.

No subscriptions will be counted unless accompanied by the cash.

A true record of the work of each correspondent will be kept by us and all the results published from time to time. Every correspondent is urged to respond to our keepers of the list of our correspondents to write every week even if the letters are short. We want to publish news while it is news.

We will be pleased to furnish any information concerning the matter.

Are you looking in strength and energy? Are you nervous, dependent, irritable, listless, constituting a generally run down in health? If so, your liver is torpid and a few doses of Herbs will cure you. Herbs has no equal as a health restorer.

Saturday night Mrs. Orr was arrested and she took her arrest in the same cold-blooded manner, she had no body until Sunday night when she confessed to her husband's partner, Wallace Graham, who with Steve W. Bourdoin, another intimate friend of her husband, had stood by her from the first. This confession was followed on Monday by a most complete confession. The only reason for her keeping her husband's secret was that he did not treat her kindly.

Three Negro Men and One Negro Woman Pay the Penalty Set by Judge Lynch's Court.

MRS. ORR ATTEMPTS TO KILL HERSELF.

LATEST:—At 9:30 last night (Wednesday) Mrs. Orr died from the effects of the poison, attended by Dr. Thomas. Her body was taken to the residence of E. A. Faifer for shroud, where baby Neva was being kindly cared for.

Neva in the history of Monroe county has there been known a crime of such horrible and shocking details as have developed from the Orr assassination, which occurred in Clarendon, Saturday night July 30th.

As the links in the chain of evidence were gradually gathered up by the officials and placed together, the entire populace were shocked to see the trend of the evidence. It pointed to the guilt of Mrs. Orr as responsible for the assassination of her husband.

After the narrow escape of the prisoners Sunday and Monday night, from being lynched, it was generally talked on Tuesday that night that Mrs. Orr should die from the self administered poison which had seeped in some mysterious manner, the perpetrators of the crime would be lynched.

The physicians examined the unconscious woman and stated that she would die in all probability die at any moment.

THE LYNCING.

A crowd of about three hundred people gathered about the jail at about 10:30 o'clock, Thursday night. Everything was peaceable.

Sheriff Jackson had gone to his home in Brinkley that morning, sick with a fever. Deputy Sheriff Minnie, was in charge. The leader of the crowd demanded from him the keys to the jail and seeing their determination he obeyed their command. Stepping around the apparently lifeless body of Mrs. Orr as she lay on a couch in the inner corridor of the jail, they soon secured Mause Castle, Will Saunders, Dennis Ricord and the negro cook, Billie Weaver and being abundantly provided with rope, slipped a noose around each of their necks and began an orderly march to the old Hulbert mill, and given a chance to talk before they were strung up. All of them took advantage of the opportunity and talked in varied strains. Mause Castle repeated and grew eloquent in his confession, naming the others as accomplices and criminalizing Mrs. Orr as the real cause of the crime. After all had talked the ropes were tightened and the four forms were soon dangling, lifeless to the old mill. They were aped, "this is the penalty for murder and rape."

The strangest thing about the crowd that did the hanging was that a large number of negroes were in it and took a most active part in the lynching.

Mrs. Orr's case of omio lover.

A letter has just been received at the Clarendon office addressed to the dead cook, Billie Weaver, and written to Mrs. Orr, by Arthur A. Archer Mayor of Caldwell, Ohio. It was a real "love letter" and it advised him to hold off September 1st, as he would only kid himself if he stayed longer with her. It stated that he was the only kid Mayor in Ohio and from this it would be inferred that he is quite young.

CHAIN OF EVIDENCE.

Possibly the first law came from a note which Mrs. Orr had written to a young man in Clarendon several months ago. She also disclosed him in offering him the job of getting her husband out of the way and after showing it to me he said that he did not know the name of the person whose name is withheld on account of his high standing) did not know what to think of the demoralized offer of the woman and after showing it to me he said that probably the best course to pursue in this matter is he had never given the woman any cause to address him, would be to say nothing of the matter and allow it to "blow over." He had forgotten the incident until the assassination when it came to his mind again. He said that the negroes had the flame grow and each day developed greater sensations than the preceding.

Will Saunders, the young negro porter and man servant about the dead cook, Billie Weaver, had written to Mrs. Orr, by Arthur A. Archer Mayor of Caldwell, Ohio. It was a real "love letter" and it advised him to hold off September 1st, as he would only kid himself if he stayed longer with her. It stated that he was the only kid Mayor in Ohio and from this it would be inferred that he is quite young.

FOR THE FATAL SHOT.

With the house, fired the fatal shot and used the gun that Mause Castle had borrowed from a negro, north of Clarendon, by the name of John Sims. When Mause returned the gun to its owner, Mause Castle was the first to speak and when he spoke anything against it, for fear he might be suspended, of doing the deed, he had the owner come to town and told it at once and this was the link that pulled Mause into the chain of evidence.
